Details:

This old country house in Felanitx has been renovated whilst paying special attention to the care and preservation of all the architectural and traditional elements from the time which give the property its authentic Mallorcan character.

The property has a total constructed area of 890 sqm, distributed over various buildings, porches, terraces and a swimming pool. The plot on which this property is located has a total area of 49,000 sqm, fenced with natural stone walls. The buildings themselves are framed by several stone enclosures with different environments and natural passages with flowers and native vegetation, as well as a flower-pond, all together immersing the environment in natural surroundings with the maximum privacy.

The main house is a building with a total constructed area of 582 sqm, distributed over diverse lounges of differing sizes recreating different traditional environments, simply to relax and enjoy the tranquility that the location conveys.

The living area includes 4 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms and a guest WC, with a large kitchen opening on to the dining room with a fireplace-stove, a pantry and a room used as a wardrobe.

On the first floor is the technology room and a covered porch, with a terrace on the 2nd floor, and a terrace on the mezzanine level presenting exceptional views of 360°.

The property has high ceilings with wooden beams, with many large windows allowing the entry of ample natural light.

Further features of the house include heating with radiators, stoneware flooring, exterior stone floors, interior wood woodwork, wooden window shutters, a wood-burning stove, various fireplaces, cisterns for well and rainwater storage, a private well, automatic irrigation, and a mains electricity connection.

The 49 sqm swimming pool is located in a private setting surrounded by nature.

There is also an independent building of 140 sqm which is currently used as a storage room.
