Location & surrounding area:

The region around Alcudia is geographically a peninsula. On the south side is the much sought after residential area of Alcanada (or "Aucanada" as it is said in Majorcan). Aucanada has earned its reputation through a number of advantages as a privileged location. For one, the southern exposure of this town provides an almost all-day sun guarantee. In addition, however, many of the properties are equipped with a truly breathtaking view of the sea due to the continuous slope of the land. This panorama is never boring, because the view of the bay of Alcudia extremely is varied and there is always something to see. Last but not least to be mentioned is that Aucanada boasts one of the most famous golf courses in Europe, from which you have 16 holes each with a fabulous sea view.
